Title of the Practice: Work Based Education
(Socially Useful Productive Work)

Objectives of the Practice

- a) Familiarize with the different productive activities in his community.
- b) Understand the Scientific Principles involved in various forms of work.
- c) To acquire knowledge of sources of raw materials and different tools and equipment used in the production of goods and services.
- d) Understand utility of Productive work and services to community.
- e) Understand the process of planning and organization of productive work.
- f) Develop an awareness of social problems.
- g) Develops an understanding to solve the problems and come up with new ideas and innovations.

The National Education Commission also known as Kothari Commission (1964-66) pointed out that there should be Work Experience followed by vocationalization of education in the school system. It was stated that the curriculum of school education should be directly linked with productivity so as to contribute to our National Development. So it was proposed to implement the concept of work experience in Indian Schools. It also conceived by our leaders during the national movement for freedom and as propounded-by Mahatama Gandhi has its genesis in work-based education. He was of the opinion that if education is based on socially useful productive work, it would be an instrument for personality development and social transformation.

The Review committee also known as Ishwarbhai Patel committee was appointed in 1977 to examine ten year school system, in which the committee recommended the term “socially useful productive work” (SUPW) to work experience (WE) and recommended that SUPW to be an integral part of curriculum at all stages of school education. In the light of recommendations of committee SUPW was introduced at the school level in different states and Union Territories. It has been introduced and implemented under different names, such as Craft education (1937), work experience (1967) and then socially useful productive work (1977).

Practice

The College facilitate students to Practice SUPW every year atleast 8 periods in a semester. College Provides SUPW materials for productive works and some low cost productive works student teachers were informed to bring needful materials from home. In each classes college introduces a college teacher as resource persons and if student teachers have such skills they were also asked to perform as a resource person of the class. The active participation and involvement of each student in this class were assessed by the mentor teacher and grades were given at the end of the course.

Impact of the practice:

The practice impacts both on the teachers as well as student teachers

On the faculty members

There should be provision for a teacher to best skilled personnel for different activities.

It helps to understand the student's creativeness and lateral thinking.

On the Students:

Acquaints the children with work and services prevailing in the community.

Develops sense of respect to manual workers.

Develop a desire to work and contribute to the society.

Inculcate positive attitudes of team work.

Development of values like tolerance, cooperation and helpfulness.

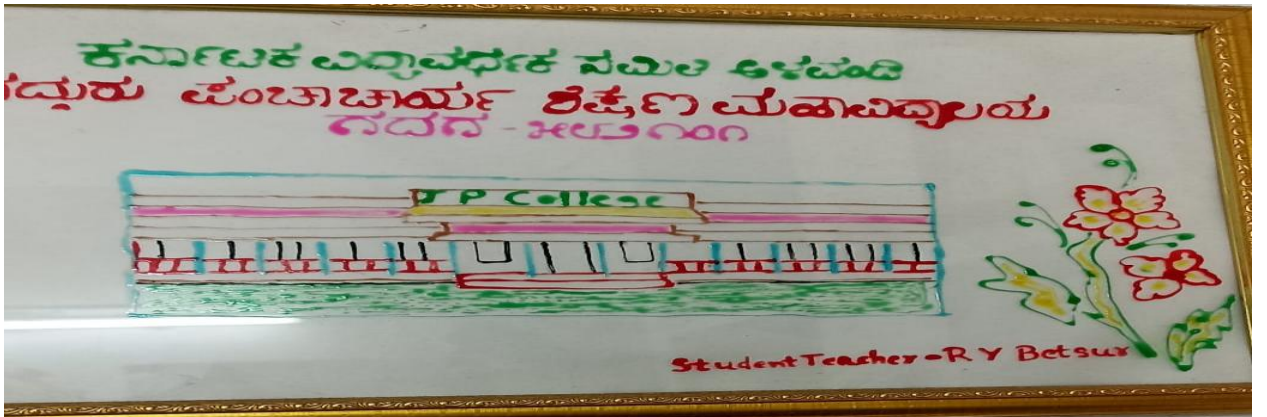

Belief in dignity of labour and self- reliance.

Helps in understanding the principles involved in various forms of work.

SUPW will have great impact on students life if it is integrated with School\College curriculum in such a way that the student teacher develops his\her aesthetic sense, enjoys and feels pride in participating in school and community activities and learnt use of waste things in a best ways. It helps to develop self-entrepreneur skills amond student teachers. Schools, colleges along with their stakeholders can play an active role in imbibing the real spirit of work culture among the students and student teachers, which in future would facilitate in realization of goals of National development.
