4. Classroom teaching learning situations along with teacher and peer feedback :

Peer learning is encouraged through group discussions and presentations. This aids in building a culture of team work and helps to develop leadership as well as interpersonal skills. The teachers assess the caliber of the students in the informal settings such as during tutorials, classroom behavior and interaction outside the class.

In B.Ed. the students are supposed to present the discussion lessons, who are provided with immediate peer feedback after the lesson so that it may be improved. Peer feedback is also taken while organizing student seminars in all courses.

Daily classroom sessions with teacher and peer feedback
